LOUISVILLE RESIDENTS PLEAD GUILTY TO STEALING FROM FORT KNOX POST EXCHANGE

David L. Huber, United States Attorney for the Western District of Kentucky, announced today that DELOIS J. WILLIAMS, age 59, of Louisville, Kentucky and KAY L. CASON, age 39, of Louisville, Kentucky, pled guilty to felony shoplifting from the Fort Knox Main Post Exchange (PX).

The maximum potential penalties for each defendant are 10 years imprisonment, a $250,000 fine, and supervised release for a period of 3 years.

Williams and Cason admitted that on July 28, 2006, they drove to Fort Knox and entered the Fort Knox AAFES (a military department store) for the purpose of stealing merchandise. Once inside, the two began roaming the store to find items to steal and began actively taking and concealing merchandise in their purses. They worked together to avoid security and conceal items they wished to steal. Together, Williams and Cason stole $1125.75 worth of merchandise.

The case was prosecuted by Special Assistant United States Attorney Dan E. Stigall and was investigated by the United States Army Military Police Investigations Section.

The pleas were entered before Dave Whalin, Magistrate Judge, United States District Court, Louisville, Kentucky.
